

Some antique fireplace mantels come with a cast iron insert made out of several cast iron elements. We call this kind of insert a "Parecloses insert".

In this case, the cast iron insert is made out of three cast iron elements which fit together perfectly.

